Table Talk

By Dan Meester, Executive Director
505-726-9623, dmeester@rcsnm.org

This morning, I had a zoom call with a woman named Julie from a company called Paycom. They used to handle our payroll work, but when we needed to make some budget reductions last year, we went with a much less expensive provider who could integrate better with some of the other systems we use.

Julie's job was to try to win back our business.

She asked me questions about Rehoboth, like how many employees we have and what our tuition structure looks like. As we talked, she kept getting more and more curious. At least five or six times, she uttered, "Wow! It sounds like you guys have a really unique environment over there."

Julie isn't alone in her response to hearing the Rehoboth story.

We currently have education majors from Taylor University in Indiana and Dordt University in Iowa working with our teachers to learn about what quality K-12 Christian education looks like and how they can put the best practices of a Rehoboth education into their own toolbelts for their future jobs. They are loving their experiences.

Earlier this week, I was running an errand at Walgreens and the checkout clerk saw my Rehoboth jacket and asked me if I worked here. When I told her who I was, she let me know all the good things that she has heard about our school and how she wants her grandsons to come here someday.

Re-enrollment just opened for next year here at Rehoboth, and that means that you, our current school families, have the first chance to reserve spots for your children in our classes for next year. In a few weeks, we will open up to the general public for people to enroll their children as well.

I want you to know that we don't take lightly your decision to entrust your children with us. It's a sacred responsibility and partnership between us that motivates all of us here at Rehoboth Christian School to train up children with the faith, knowledge, and skills they need to flourish in the world and to help others flourish as well. We do this because they are fearfully and wonderfully made by our Creator God—His Living Images here on earth. Their immense value demands our very best.

On Monday, our staff spent time sharing ideas about big, audacious goals that we should undertake over the next decade to ensure Rehoboth continues to deliver an outstanding education born out of faith and love to its students for years and years to come.

I agree with Julie from Paycom that Rehoboth is a special place. I hope you do too. Tell the stories of your enthusiasm to your family, friends, and neighbors during this enrollment season because we want as many students as possible to experience God's love and leading in their lives.

Together,

Dan Meester, Executive Director

District Spelling Bee

Huge congratulations to Christy Neilson and Jelome Gandia for winning 1st and 2nd place, respectively, at the district spelling bee this past week!

Winter Weather

Please make sure that your child comes to school with appropriate clothes. If possible, labeling any hats, gloves, mittens, and jackets helps us keep track of belongings and return them to the right owners if found.

While snow can be so much fun to play with, we need to make sure that we are still being respectful towards one another. Snowballs may not be thrown at faces, while on the large playground, or other areas besides the designated areas.

Afternoon Pick-up Routines

This is a friendly reminder to please respect our pick-up loop instructions. This ensures that we keep students safe and properly supervised. You can check out our reminder video here: Pick-up Loop Instructions

All K–8 students must be picked up at the Gravel Loop behind the Elementary and Middle School (unless riding the bus or at sports practice). Families may park in the SFC lot and walk to the loop. Only Pre-K families may park by the Elementary playground (sign-out required).

Pick-up time is 3:05 to 3:25. You will find students at the Gravel Loop.

- After 3:25, students are walked back inside to wait in the office where phone calls will be made.
- After 3:45, any students still waiting in the office will join the After School Program with Sarah Marlowe. After the second occurrence, the daily fee of $15 per student will be applied.

Apology & Forgiveness Tool

BE KIND
AND COMPASSIONATE
TO ONE ANOTHER
FORGIVING EACH OTHER
JUST AS IN CHRIST GOD
FORGAVE YOU
-EPHESIANS 4:32

Sometimes, people say or do things that upset us, such as damaging our belongings or using hurtful words. How we respond matters: reacting calmly and clearly, without aggression, helps others understand our feelings and thoughts. If we respond with anger or ignore the situation, it may continue or get worse. Being assertive—expressing ourselves respectfully and directly—makes it easier for others to offer a genuine apology.

A true apology involves more than just words; it may require actions to repair the harm. When we apologize and forgive sincerely, we show respect and strengthen our relationships. Just as glue or tape can fix a tear, a thoughtful apology can help mend a mistake and we can live out Christ's words.

Students Missing Classes

January brings several exciting opportunities for students to participate in sports, music, and many service opportunities. These opportunities often pull students from classes. When students miss class time, they are responsible for keeping up the work that happens in those classes. Teachers are more than happy to let students know what they will be missing; Google classroom is a great resource to keep up with all that happens in classes, so if you need to see what happened in your students' classes when they were gone, please ask them about what was updated on Google classroom.

All State Choir & Band and Honor Band

Throughout the fall, many students who auditioned for All State Choir and Band were recognized in the parent news for being chosen to participate in these competitive groups. Those All State Choir and Bands will meet during January. For the next three weeks students will be traveling to participate in workshops and concerts; these events are usually highlights of the year for these students. We wish these students safe travel, and we hope that the work that they do will be rewarding in many ways.

Snow Day

In the event of a snow day, the day (A or B) we return will be the day that was missed for the snow day. That is to say, if the snow day was a Wednesday, A day; the Thursday we return to school will be an A day, not a B day. If you have any questions regarding this, do not hesitate to contact the office.
