Table Talk

By Dan Meester, Executive Director
505-726-9623, dmeester@rcsnm.org

When I was a boy, growing up in San Jose, California, I had one set of grandparents who lived in town and another set who lived about 100 miles away in the city of Modesto. Typically, it was about every month or two that the four of us—my mom, my dad, my younger brother, and me—would pile into our Plymouth Voyager minivan and make the hour and forty-five minute drive to the brown house on De La Pena Drive.

That always felt like a long ride to us. If it was night time, we could curl up on one of the bench seats and sleep through the trip, but during the day, we needed other ways to pass the time.

This was long before iPads or even walkmans. Sometimes we would read books or doodle, but our favorite thing to do was have our dad quiz us. One of the quizzes we loved was on the capital cities of different states or countries. Keeping North and South Dakota straight was always a challenge for my brother, while I might get tripped up on the difference between Bern, Switzerland and Bonn, West Germany. I was only in 3rd grade, after all!

But even more than the capitals, we loved the quizzes that started with, “Who said these words . . . ?” My dad would pick a famous quote from history, and we would have to name the speaker. Bonus points if we knew the situation or setting for the quote as well. “I shall return!” was General Douglas MacArthur leaving the Philippines. My dad was a World War II buff.

Playing that game etched quite a few quotations into my mind, so it was with some extra joy and interest that I encountered the Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial in Washington D.C. on one of our family vacations about 10 years ago. The north and south walls of the memorial are etched with some of King’s most famous phrases:

"The ultimate measure of a man is not where he stands in moments of comfort and convenience, but where he stands at times of challenge and controversy."

"Injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere. We are caught in an inescapable network of mutuality, tied in a single garment of destiny. Whatever affects one directly, affects all indirectly."

And one of my all-time favorites: "Darkness cannot drive out darkness, only light can do that. Hate cannot drive out hate, only love can do that."

I know that the struggle for justice for Native Americans is not the same as the African American struggle for Civil Rights, but I hope that as we celebrate MLK Day on Monday, we can reflect on his wisdom and allow it to inspire us to hope and action in our own lives today. The Lord desires justice for all of His people, and it’s an honor to work at a school that takes that call seriously and does its best to participate in bringing that justice every day.

Together,

Dan Meester, Executive Director

District Spelling Bee

Huge congratulations to Christy Neilson and Jelome Gandia for winning 1st and 2nd place, respectively, at the district spelling bee this past week!

Winter Weather

Please make sure that your child comes to school with appropriate clothes. If possible, labeling any hats, gloves, mittens, and jackets helps us keep track of belongings and return them to the right owners if found.

While snow can be so much fun to play with, we need to make sure that we are still being respectful towards one another. Snowballs may not be thrown at faces, while on the large playground, or other areas besides the designated areas.

Afternoon Pick-up Routines

Thank you all for helping keep dismissal safe and smooth. We appreciate your willingness to be patient and picking up your students in the correct locations! Our teachers have also created a video of do's and don'ts of picking up students.

You can check out that video here: Pick-up Loop Instructions

All K–8 students must be picked up at the Gravel Loop behind the Elementary and Middle School (unless riding the bus or at sports practice). The loop is single lane only—please pull forward, stay in line, and do not form a second lane. Use turn signals and exit slowly.

Families may park in the SFC lot and walk to the loop. Only Pre-K families may park by the Elementary playground (sign-out required). If you have students in both schools, you may park there, but all other students must still be picked up at the loop.

Pick-up time is 3:05 to 3:25. You will find students at the Gravel Loop.

- After 3:25, students are walked back inside to wait in the office where phone calls will be made.
- After 3:45, any students still waiting in the office will join the After School Program with Sarah Marlowe. After the second occurrence, the daily fee of $15 per student will be applied.

New Mexico Dream Center and Tuesday's Chapel

Tuesday's chapel was led by Birga Alden from the New Mexico Dream Center. The New Mexico Dream Center is a Christian organization that works with victims of human trafficking; Ms. Alden shared with us the realities of human trafficking in New Mexico and what can be done about these realities. This was a difficult message to hear. Yet as Christians this is a message we must hear; this is the chaos that God wants us to be working in; this is where God's love is desperately needed. Ms. Alden gave us several ways to reach out to our community that desperately needs to feel God's love. I encourage you to look at the New Mexico Dream Center's website and consider ways you could get involved. You can also contact Mr. Ruthven for more information about the New Mexico Dream Center.

Monday, January 19, is Martin Luther King Day. Dr. King was famous for challenging beliefs about how people were treated and how systems of oppression had been built in places that people did not suspect were working in nefarious ways. King's challenge to these beliefs and systems sought to replace God's intended human dignity to all people. This message was difficult to hear. Yet it is in line with the love that we were asked to share with those who the New Mexico Dream Center works with.

Students Missing Classes

January brings several exciting opportunities for students to participate in sports, music, and many service opportunities. These opportunities often pull students from classes. When students miss class time, they are responsible for keeping up the work that happens in those classes. Teachers are more than happy to let students know what they will be missing; Google classroom is a great resource to keep up with all that happens in classes, so if you need to see what happened in your students' classes when they were gone, please ask them about what was updated on Google classroom.

All State Choir & Band and Honor Band

Throughout the fall, many students who auditioned for All State Choir and Band were recognized in the parent news for being chosen to participate in these competitive groups. Those All State Choir and Bands will meet during January. For the next three weeks students will be traveling to participate in workshops and concerts; these events are usually highlights of the year for these students. We wish these students safe travel, and we hope that the work that they do will be rewarding in many ways.

Snow Day

In the event of a snow day, the day (A or B) we return will be the day that was missed for the snow day. That is to say, if the snow day was a Wednesday, A day; the Thursday we return to school will be an A day, not a B day. If you have any questions regarding this, do not hesitate to contact the office.

Homecoming

The Homecoming basketball game is scheduled for Friday, January 30. There will be many homecoming events planned by the alumni coordinator, and those events will be publicized in the Parent News and on social media. The high school students are planning several events for the week of homecoming; those events will be published in the parent news soon. In addition, students will be planning a homecoming dance on Saturday, January 31 from 7:30-10:30PM.
