Table Talk

Dan Meester | Executive Director

I'm in Michigan this week, sharing the Rehoboth story with different groups of our supporters, and today, I had the opportunity to be a part of an Education class at Calvin University—Inclusive Teaching, taught by Professor Tori Figg. They were excited to learn about Rehoboth and the tools we use to teach our students well.

The class is built around the concept of biblical hospitality and what it means to be a hospitable teacher, so I was excited to share about our theme from last school year—Unreasonable Hospitality—and some of the distinctives that I think make Rehoboth such a special place.

We talked about practical advice, like being prepared with your lesson materials so you can stand outside the class and greet students as they come in. That little extra effort helps teachers see things like body language, mood, eye contact for each student and start making mental adjustments to their interactions in class. Similarly, learning your students' stories, going to their sporting events, learning their language, and so many other efforts are all ways to demonstrate to your students that they matter. That they're worth your time. That they are important to the God we serve.

I'm happy these kinds of practices are embedded into the teaching of so many of our faculty. I get to see them on display when I walk through our buildings and pop into classrooms or when we're on trails, fields, or courts cheering on our teams. These are strong educational principles that make for better learning . . . but they're far more than that too.

Hospitality is at the heart of the behaviors that bring about the Kingdom of Heaven.

In Genesis, we read the story of Abraham bending over backwards to provide an extreme welcome for three strangers who are traveling through the land near his home. As he prepared a meal for them, Abraham instructed Sarah to get three "seahs" (about 20 pounds each) of the finest flour to make bread to nourish their visitors.

60 pounds of the finest flour. Some of you fry bread experts know that three big bags of blue bird flour could probably make enough dough for 150 people. 150 meals' worth for 3 guests. That's over the top, right? It's way beyond what they needed.

Later, in the book of Matthew, Jesus tells a parable about the Kingdom of Heaven, saying it's like a woman who added yeast to three seahs of flour until it worked itself all through the dough. He's directly pointing us back to that story of Abraham caring for three strangers.

We love and appreciate your students. They are worth our best efforts. They are worth knowing because they are Living Images of Almighty God. That posture leads to a great education, but even more, they embody the Kingdom of Heaven.

Together,

Dan Meester, Executive Director

High School Highlights

End of Quarter 1 & Parent Teacher Conferences

The first quarter will end on Friday, October 10. Parent teacher conferences will be October 14 and 15 from 4-8PM. Parent teacher conferences are a great opportunity to meet our high school teachers. This will be a great time to build a relationship with teachers; they will let you know about what happens with your student in class and what will be expected in the next quarter. Please plan on attending one of these evenings; there is no sign up necessary for high school conferences.

Indigenous Peoples' Day

The Multicultural Committee has planned several interactive and educational events and booths for our celebration of Indigenous Peoples' Day on October 13. Last year's event was really great, and this year will be a similar format with a few more options. The high school students will participate in these activities from 2:05-3:05. You are welcome to join your students in these activities. Thank you to all the parents who have volunteered for the event.

SAT/PSAT and College and Career Fair

On Wednesday, October 15, our students will take the PSAT or SAT tests. This is an important test for our students and teachers. The results will give our teachers and students a great amount of data and information to think about where they are at academically and where they need to go. Please encourage your students to do their best on this test, and if you would like to find some test preparation materials you can find a ton at khanacademy.org.

On Wednesday afternoon we will have a college and career fair. This is a wonderful opportunity for students to hear from community members serving in various careers. The information gleaned from these community members influences our students as they think of ways to serve their communities in the future. There will also be several local colleges and universities in the LC. These schools will give students information that will hopefully guide them as they think through the next steps in their educational journeys.

Fall Break

Fall break will be October 16 and 17. I hope that you plan to use this time to rest up; I am very excited for the time to get away from school and rest, and I know your students are excited too. Please use these days of rest to prepare you and your students for the second quarter. This is a great moment of peace before the hectic pace that comes with state tournaments, fall holidays, and the end of the semester. I plan on fishing some water near peaceful places around Show Low, AZ.

Fall Service Day

The National Honors Society is planning a day of service for all high school students on October 22. This is always an awesome day where most students leave campus to serve the greater community. The learning that happens through service is vital for growing citizens who show God's transforming love. I enjoy hearing the stories from students as they return from their work sites. Students will be learning of their work sites soon; please ask your students where they have been placed and what they will be doing.

Celebration of Learning

On the evening of November 10 the high school will have a celebration of learning. This will be a chance to see the specific things happening in classes to equip students to love and serve God. The choir and band will be performing, and there will be numerous other highlights of learning activities to share. Please come and share a great evening learning about what is happening in the classes of the high school.

High School Principal

High School Counselor's Corner

Hello,

Tomorrow, October 10, 2025 is the end of Quarter 1. Please take some time to check in with your students about their classes. Parent teacher conferences will be held on Tuesday, October 14, 2025 from 4:00 PM to 8:00 PM and on Wednesday, October 15, 2025 from 4:00 PM to 8:00 PM. If you are a parent to a 2026 senior, please stop by my tables to discuss diploma information.

School wide testing will take place on October 15, 2025 from 8:00 AM to 11:30 AM. Please ensure students are on time to school on October 15, 2025. If students arrive late they may not be admitted into their test. If you have not paid your $35.00 testing fee for the SAT please do so as soon as possible. Payments can be made at the high school front office with Ms. Shawn Begay or the administration building with Mrs. Dorann Louis.

On October 16, 2025 we will host a college showcase with the Daniels Foundation (also partners with the ACE scholarship). The event will start at 8:30 AM and end at 11:30 AM in the High School LC. All RCS students are welcome to attend, we have extended an invitation to all local schools in our area to share in this great opportunity. Please see the event flyer attached for more information.

Food Service

We will be celebrating Indigenous week with Navajo Tacos on Monday and continue through the week . This coming week we also have our Fall Break on Oct 16, 17 . Kiddos enjoy your time off .

I can't say Thank you enough to all the amazing volunteers that have come to help serve our students during lunch. Since we made some adjustments in now serving hot food to our High School students.. If you know of anyone interested in serving please don't hesitate to contact us and earn your Volunteer Hours.

We are encouraging kids to drink their milk and eat the food on their plates. Please encourage your kids to eat what is on their plate. Remember they can speak up and turn down a food item as long as they have three items on their tray, one being a fruit or vegetable.

Just a reminder, we will be doing finger scans for all new students for counting lunch meals. All we need is one scan, and it is good for the rest of their time at Rehoboth. Once the student has graduated or leaves Rehoboth, their scan will be deleted.

- Please have all contact info updated in Renweb. When delays happen during the bus routes, this is the best way to communicate with you if there are any changes.
- Please be early to your bus stop, 5-10 minutes. Sometimes buses arrive early due to fewer students on the bus, and some hub stops are not in use during that route.
- Our Transportation Department is in need of a substitute bus driver. Please contact Darius Yazzie for more information. Contact info is located below.
